HONGEONG, TURBDAY, JUNE 19, 1894.

THERE is no doubt a very strong feeling in the Colony against the authorities on account of the foolish concessions made to Chinese prejudice during the unfortunate outbreak of Asiatic typhus now amongst us. Whether the Governor, Goods per Glenshiel undelivered after this the Colonial Secretary, or the Permanent Committee of the Sanitary Board -or all of them together are responsible for the policy which is so generally condemned, it is an open secret that the Acting Colonial Secretary takes credit for it. Although perliaps few persons interested would seek to dispute this honour with Mr Stewart Lockhart it is believed that the redoubtable Chairman of the Permanent Committee has also expressed himself to be quite willing to take the responsibility. That, however, is a small matter, as the Secretary of State is likely to argue out a matter of this kind pretty much on his own lines. We have from the outset opposed the action of the Government in abandoning to the Chinese what appeared to us to be a material administrative duty. When the statement at first gained currency we treated itas an absurd rumour. His Excellency, we thought, vould never give up his functions in such an offhand manner, especially during an emergency, unless he had some most cogent reason for doing so-such; for instance, as a distinct declaration from the Medical staff that they would not be responsible for the due performance of their duties otherwise. There is good reason to believe, however, that the Medical authorities have been decidedly and consistently opposed throughout to the weak concessions lately made to the Uhinese by the Government. On the ground of public policy, these concessions are commonly condemned: they have lowered the reputation of British administration in the eyes of the Chinese here and in Canton. But the action referred to was, of course, opposed by the medical men on the score of humanity and in the interests of Western medical science. These illtimed concessions also exercised a most pernicious influence upon the medical arrangements made or projected to meet the Plague. After the Chinese were allowed carte blanche to blunder on and mess about according to their own sweet. will, chaos reigned. The direction of almost everything devolved upon Mr Francis, as the mouthpiece of Governor Robinson and Mr. Stewart Lockhart. Indeed, the fixing of hospital sites and even the details seem to have been decided upon by men quite unacquainted with that branch of administrationmen who, it is actually alleged, have never been within telescopic range of the Plague Hospitals, to see the places for themselves. Now, divided authority is always objectionable, but when men however able in other respects, endeav our to direct the medical operations of an epidemic, confusion is a certain result. This has been the case to a regrettable extent during the present crisis; and it is passing strange that His Excellency has not taken the trouble to see for himself where the shoe pinched, and had matters put upon a more satisfactory footing. On an occasion like this, both the Governor and his Acting Colonial Secretary were furnished with a splendid opportunity of showing the stuff of which they were made -- a chance of mingling tact with firmness, consideration with fearlessness, and displaying administrative ability all round FOR COAST PORTS, Waters are packed with a disregard of personal consequences, and a determination to do the very best for the Colony and the very worst for the disease. To this end, the advice of a Medical Board-which hould at once have been formed-w ald have been, one might think, the fir thing to seek. If we are rightly informed the doctors have been sunbbed and hampered, and advice given by them has been ignored. The injury done by handing over the sick, first to the here, and next to Chinese Viceroy of Kwangtung can never be repaired. The evil results of the disorder wrought in the medical arrangements may be minimized; and the good sense of the doctors themselves, together with the fact that the disease has begun. to show signs of abatement, will doubtless mend matters by degrees. there is a right way and a wrong way of doing things; and we fear the Government have, smid much hard and be st work, chosen the wrong way in read to much in connection with their efforts to stay the Plague. Another point may be referred to here. We have already spoken of the strong and excellent speech of the Governor at the last Countil meeting;

in which His Excellency promised that sanitary measures would be taken without delay. Residents have been an-| xiously looking for some fulfilment of that promise, as they were in hopes that the works and messures sketched out by the Governor would have been put in hand forthwith. This hope has not yet been realised, for we understand all the different projects have been telegraphed Home, and the Ruler of this Dependency is now awaiting instructions. Surely a strong, self-relignt Governor of a firstclass Crown Colony such as Hongkong is said to be, could, in a case of urgency like the present, have initiated and begun to carry out such works as in his. opinion were absolutely necessary without wasting time by referring the matter Home. It would, we think, have been the more independent course to have done what is absolutely required

They will doubtless fall back upon Mr Cooper and other Hongkong officials in England, and they, not being on the spot, cannot be in the best position to pronounce upon questions which must be examined and investigated here. His Worship, in passing sentence, saidreasonable way in maintaining discipline on board his ship, I am bound to say that in this instance there was not the slightest idea of committing an infraction of the discipline and that the whole assault arose out of the boy having stated that this man Flynn had stolen from the galley. When the captain accused Flynn, he denied the theft, and that was the only reason for the assault. There had been no disrespect shown towards the captain, and nothing done. in my opinion, to justify the assault. It is quite possible I may inflict a sentence which some people might think too lenient and which other people might think too severe. Limiting oneself, however, to the assault on Flynn, and considering that the assault was committed without weapons and that the bodily injury sustained was not excessive. I think the circumstances of the case would be a captain. THIS Review, which was intended to meet the wants of many students of Chinese caused by the discontinuance of 'Notes and Queries on China and Japan,' has reached its Twenty-first Volume. The Review discusses those topics which are uppermest in the minds of students of the 'Far East' and about which every intelligent person connected with China or Japan is desirous of acquiring trustworthy information. It ineludes many interesting Notes and original Papers on the Arts, Sciences, Ethnology, Folklore, Geography, History, Literature, Mythology, Natural History, Antiquities, and Social Manners and Customs, etc., etc., of China, Japan, Mongolia, Tibet, and the Far East generally. Recently a new departure has been taken, and the Review now parture has been taken, and the hearth how gives papers on Trade, Commerce, and Descriptive notes of Travel by well-known writers. It was thought that by extending the scope of the Review in this direction, the Magazine would be made more generally

The Review department receives special attention, and endeavours are made to present a careful and concise record of Literature on China etc., and to give critiques embodying sketches of the Most recent works on such topics. Trubner's Oriental Record contains the following notice of the China Review:-The present publication, judging by the number now before us, is intended to occupy a position, as regards China and the neighbouring countries, some what similar to that which has been filled in India by the Calcutta Review. The great degree of attention that has been bestowed of late years upon the investigation of Chinese literature. antiquities, and social developments, to say nothing of linguistic studies, has led to the accumulation of important stores of information, rendering some such channel of publicity as is now provided extremely desirable; and contributions of much interest may fairly be looked or from the members of the foreign consular services, the Chinese Customs' corps, and the missionary body, among whom a high degree of Chinese scholarship is now assiduously cultivated, and who are severally represented in the firm number of the Review by papers highly creditable to their respective authors . . Some translations from Chinese novels and plays are marked by both accuracy and freshness of style; and an account of the career of the Chinese poet-statesman of the eleventh century, Su Tung-p'o, by Mr. E. C. Bowrs, is not only historically valuable, but is also distinguished by its literary grace. Beside notices of new books relating to China and the East, which will be a useful feature of the Review, if carried cut with punctualit and detail, we are glad to notice that Notes and 'Queries' are destined to Green Isla find a place in its pages also.
